VIII Mini Print Internacional Cantabria, el Mar y los Faros

Es un placer y un orgullo presentar esta octava edición del Mini Print Cantabria. Estamos seguros que la disfrutaréis tanto como nosotros hemos disfrutado de cada etapa de este maravilloso desafío.

Enhorabuena a todos los artistas participantes y nuestro profundo agradecimiento por hacer de este encuentro internacional una verdadera celebración ecuménica. Una enhorabuena especial a los artistas que han sido distinguidos por los miembros del jurado, a quienes les agradecemos la ardua tarea desarrollada.

Deseamos agradecer una vez más a la Autoridad Portuaria de Santander por acompañarnos en este emocionante camino y a El Diario Montañés y al Grupo Nueva Dársena por su continuo apoyo.

VIII International Mini Print Cantabria, the Sea and the Lighthouses

We're delighted and proud to present this eighth edition of the Mini Print Cantabria. We are sure that you'll enjoy it as much as we've enjoyed every step of this marvellous challenge.

Congratulations to all the participant artists and our deep gratitude for making this international meeting a truly ecumenical celebration.

Special congratulations to the artists who have been distinguished by the jury members, to whom we thank for their arduous task carried out.

We would like once again to thank the Port Authority of Santander for accompanying us on this exciting journey and El Diario Montañés newspaper and Nueva Dársena Group for their continuous support.

Every possible lighthouse

Referring to its great ethnic, cultural and social diversity, in Historias de Londres (1999) the journalist Enric González defined London as the city where “every possible world meets”.

The International Mini Print Cantabria event El Mar y los Faros (The Sea and the Lighthouses) was created in 2018 as part of the Impact 10 (International Multi-disciplinary Printmaking, Artists, Concepts and Techniques) conference held in Santander, a 9-day event attended by over 400 professionals from around the world linked to graphic arts in general and printmaking in particular. Of the intense programme of activities, including talks, presentations and exhibitions in locations throughout the city, only one has endured over time, transcending the temporary nature of the event.

Originally conceived as a biennial event, the success of the first edition and the strong relationship forged between the Santander Port Authority and SM Pro Art led to the Mini Print contest becoming an annual event, developing naturally in just a few months from the call to the opening in the Faro Cabo Mayor Art Center.

Every summer since then, graphic works by hundreds of artists from every continent have arrived in Cabo Mayor, as if on a pilgrimage. They are small-format works produced using a wide range of techniques, from traditional engravings made with scrapers, gouges and burins, to prints made from photographs and graphic designs or using the latest digital technologies.

The sea, and especially lighthouses, are the underlying theme of the exhibition, although this theme is so broad and diverse in practice that it is impossible to delimit. A stroll around the rooms of the Faro gives an overpowering sense of the infinite perspectives and interpretations that these concepts can inspire: each artist expresses on paper hopes, fears, experiences, dreams, values, emotions and ideas that go far beyond what can be contained in a mere 20 x 20 centimetres.

Not surprisingly, the jury's task of selecting the prize winners and the artists singled out for special mentions gets harder each year, as the number of participants and the quality of the works submitted have risen in every one of the exhibition's eight years. Andrea Juan and Gabriel Penedo are undoubtedly to thank for this achievement, keeping up their passion for graphic art year after year and maintaining the attention and interest of an extraordinarily committed and connected community of artists.

From the universal to the most personal, the participants are a fine example of togetherness and mutual understanding in the world of art. Their works have helped place the Faro Cabo Mayor Art Center at the heart of the world of graphic art, its light shining on all the Mini Prints, on every possible lighthouse.

Todos los faros posibles

Aludiendo a su enorme diversidad étnica, cultural y social, en Historias de Londres (1999) el periodista Enric González define la capital británica como la ciudad donde caben “todos los mundos posibles”.

Mini Print Internacional Cantabria El Mar y los Faros nació en 2018 con motivo de la Conferencia Internacional Multidisciplinar Impact 10, encuentro que reunió durante nueve días en Santander a más de 400 profesionales de todo el mundo vinculados a la gráfica en general y al grabado en particular. De un intensísimo programa de actividades, compuesto por charlas, presentaciones y exposiciones repartidas por toda la ciudad, sólo una iba a permanecer en el tiempo, trascendiendo la temporalidad del evento.

A pesar de su inicial vocación de bienal, el éxito de participación de la primera edición y la complicidad entre la Autoridad Portuaria de Santander y SM Pro Art facilitaron la transformación del Mini Print en un certamen anual, consolidando con toda naturalidad y en apenas unos meses tanto su convocatoria como su muestra colectiva en el Centro de Arte Faro Cabo Mayor.

Desde entonces y como si de una especie de peregrinación se tratara, las obras gráficas de cientos de artistas de todos los continentes llegan cada verano a Cabo Mayor. Son obras de pequeño formato y realizadas mediante todo tipo de técnicas; desde el grabado más tradicional, con rascador, gubia o buril, hasta las impresiones que parten de la fotografía, el diseño gráfico o la aplicación de las últimas tecnologías digitales.

El mar y muy especialmente los faros actúan como hilo conductor del concurso, marcando una temática que en la práctica es tan amplia y diversa como imposible de delimitar. Resulta abrumador recorrer las salas del Faro y descubrir la infinidad de miradas e interpretaciones que estos conceptos pueden inspirar, pues cada artista expresa en el papel esperanzas, miedos, realidades, sueños, valores, emociones e ideas que van mucho más allá de lo que apenas 20 x 20 cm pueden teóricamente abarcar.

No es de extrañar que la selección de los premios y de las menciones especiales por parte del jurado sea cada año más difícil que la anterior, ya que el número de participantes y la calidad de los trabajos presentados no han parado de crecer en estas ocho ediciones. Este logro es sin duda mérito de Andrea Juan y Gabriel Penedo, que han sabido mantener la atención y el interés de una comunidad de artistas extraordinariamente comprometida y conectada, que renueva su pasión por la gráfica año tras año.

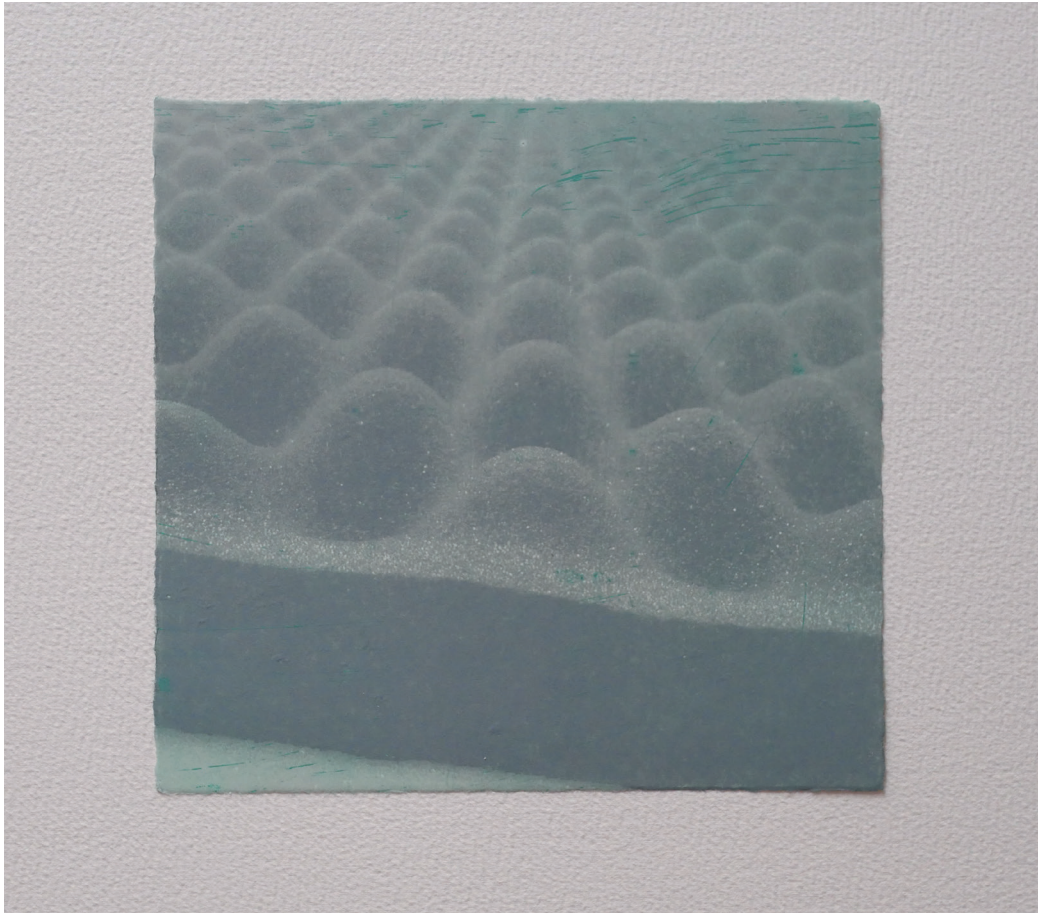

Desde lo universal hasta lo más personal, los participantes de este certamen son hoy un ejemplo de unión y concordia en torno al arte. Sus obras han convertido al Faro de Cabo Mayor en epicentro de la gráfica mundial y encendido su luz para alumbrar todos los Mini Print, todos los faros posibles.
